

How to use the shot map

These are the spots where you should practice from to master shot making. Every shot isn't applicable to every spot. From each spot think of the shots you most likely will shoot from there and build your workout plans accordingly.

The letters are form shooting / layup spots. You could shoot floaters from number spots if you want. 10 makes per spot is a solid baseline to start and build from. Good luck!